

James Walter, M.D.

Board Certified Family Medicine

DEC # 020201-0147

Dr. James Walter was born and raised in a small town Azle, outside of Fort Worth, TX. His education and training took him across TX to Abilene, San Antonio and Amarillo. His love of education, health, and science were seeded at an early age by his Mother, who was also a physician and his father, who was a professor and museum director.

While working on his undergraduate degree, Dr. Walter was motivated and inspired into medicine through conversations with other physicians. Those conversations helped him confirm that he wanted to be like them and help patients improve their way of life. He enjoys opportunities to care for patients and has a passion for helping people feel their best.

When not treating patients, Dr. Walter enjoys competitive sports like basketball as well as outdoor activities like fishing and biking.
